About the Webinar: Business Interruption is often “where the money is” in a property insurance claim and is frequently the most complex part of a claim. In this webinar, two experienced practitioners, one from the policyholder side and one from the carrier side, will give an overview of key Business Interruption coverages and where disputes frequently arise. The webinar will include a discussion of relevant case law on particular issues.

Some of the topics that will be discussed include the fundamental purpose of Business Interruption insurance, as well as examples of specific coverages and coverage issues arising in connection with the period of liability, causation, makeup, extra expense, civil authority, protection and preservation of property and measurement.
